

LE SILENCE DES POUPÉES

Novel - Thriller

From Anna SAM, on an original idea of Raoul CAUVIN
Incredible result of an unexpected collaboration between a comics genius known for its hilarious graphic novels and an author specialized in documentary and sociology works, tainted of cynicism and sense of humor, this novel will bring the reader to the depths of their inner soul.

Back cover

Do you think you already have touched the ground ? You are wrong. You can fall much deeper. Way deeper.

Richard had everything for himself: a successful job, a so-called golden life and a promising future ahead. But what he knew and was used to exploded suddenly in a blink of an eye. Ruin and decadence became his partners in crime. Penniless, he is at the edge of losing himself. When he's being approached by a mysterious man called Jeoffroy, rich taxidermist, who proposes to help him out, in a certainly radical manner, he has no other choice but to accept. Is this opportunity too good to be true? Nobody can really conclude an alliance with the devil without being hurt in return. Richard will learn this lesson the hard way.

The authors

novelist

Fascinated by books and so-called geek, Anna Sam always keeps at hand a support (laptop, smartphone or notebook) to write on. She loves sketching attitudes, expressions and daily life scenes of people she meets. She used her ability to describe her routine in a few words or sentences and made a novel out of it ("Les tribulations d'une caissière", Éditions Stock, translated into 30 different countries) when she was working at the cash point desk of a famous French supermarkets franchise. She is currently working as a speaker for a local TV channel located in Rennes, French Britannia.
